HIS MAJESTY'S HEALTH

"GREAT WEAKNESS" BUT NO CAUSE FOR INCREASED ANXIETY

"MORE HOPEFUL VIEW"

London, Yesterday, 8 p.m.
A British Wireless message states:

A more hopeful view of the King's condition is now taken in palace circles and apart from the fact that recent bulletins have encouraged a restrained optimism there are several reassuring indications that anxiety has to some extent been relieved.

Last night's bulletin, which stated that the King had had a quiet day and that the slow improvement noted in the morning continued, added that no bulletin would be issued this morning. This was regarded as a favourable sign.

The public also placed a similar interpretation on the announcement that Princess Mary, who had been staying at palace for nearly a month felt justified in leaving London yesterday afternoon to join Viscount Lascelles and their two sons who have spent Christmas at Harwood Hall in Yorkshire. The movements of the Prince of Wales also indicated that anxiety had been somewhat relieved. He was out hunting yesterday with Belvoir Park, and on receipt of advices from the doctors at Buckingham Palace he changed his plans for returning to London in the afternoon and remained for the week-end at Melton Mowbray.

"The Reverse the Case"
The reports which have appeared that the King has been unconscious for long periods are very misleading at this stage of the illness. Instead of anxiety being increased since Thursday the reverse is the case. Since it is laid, however, on the fact that the King's condition remains one of great weakness and this is the chief cause of anxiety.

The question of blood transfusion, it is authoritatively stated, has not been considered. It is understood that measures decided on Friday for increasing the King's general strength relate to a new course of medicine.

A Quiet Day
The following bulletin, issued at 8.30 p.m. to-day, states:
The King has had a quiet day. There is no change to report in His Majesty's condition.Signed: Stanley Hewett, Hugh Rigby, Dawson of Penn.
The Ray Treatment
Reuter states that the Ray Therapy treatment was again to be administered last night.Earlier Bulletins London, Saturday.
His Majesty passed a fair night and his condition is much about the same.Blood Transfusion
Following a suggestion that blood might be transfused into His Majesty's veins, telephonically and otherwise, offered their services but, according to the Secretary of the Blood Transfusion Service of the Red Cross, there is not the slightest possibility of anyone outside of Court circles being required.Very Slight Improvement
A bulletin issued at 11.30 stated that the King had a quiet night and that there is very slight change for the better."Not Even Considered"
Later.
A larger than usual crowd awaited the posting of the bulletin outside Buckingham Palace.

As regards the reports that the King has been unconscious for long periods, it is pointed out that such statements at the present stage of the illness are very misleading. There is still great weakness but anxiety is decreasing.

Blood transfusion has not even been considered. Friday's reference to new measures being adopted are related to a new course of medicine.

SCHNEIDER CUP

London, Yesterday.
Entries for the Schneider Trophy seaplane race from Germany as well as from America are now expected by the Royal Aero Club. The lists close to-morrow.Entries have already been received from France and Italy, each of which is sending three seaplanes.

AUSTRALIA ALL OUT FOR 397

ENGLAND 47 FOR 1

DON BRADMAN &amp; E.L.A. BECKETT MAKE THE RUNS

THIRD TEST: SECOND DAY

At the close of play in the Third Test match at Melbourne on the second day (16-day) England were 350 runs behind Australia on the 1st innings, with nine wickets in hand. Fortunes fluctuated twice to-day.

Two Australian batsmen were out cheaply.
Then Bradman and A. Beckett made a stand of 86 runs for the seventh wicket.Then the last three wickets fell for 24 runs.
The cricket was very quiet, states Reuter.

Between the resumption of play and the lunch interval, Australia added 61 runs for the loss of two wickets which fell cheaply—but Bradman and A. Beckett, the newcomers, made a stand.

Two Good Analyses
Tate's fine bowling was a feature of the morning's play and White bowled very steadily throughout.
Ryder (111) and Bradman (26), the overnight not outs, continued with the score at 276 runs for four wickets.

The attendance was 55,000. The weather, as on the first day, was brilliant and the wicket continued to play fast.

After six runs had been added, Ryder's long innings had come to an end. He was caught by Hendren, fielding at short leg, off Tate, having scored only one of the six runs. The fifth wicket, therefore, fell for 282 runs.

Sixth Wicket Down
Ryder's 112 was completed in three hours and 40 minutes. He played a great innings, says Reuter, his forte being driving. He hit a six and six fours, having seen the total increased from 57 to 282—at a critical stage of the match—and had contributed 112 out of 225 put on while he was batting. His fifth wicket partnership with Bradman realised 64 runs. No wonder the crowd cheered him.

Oldfield, the wicket-keeper, then went in to bat in place of his captain.

Bradman had collected five runs with Ryder. He got two with Oldfield while the latter scored three. Then Oldfield played on a ball from Geary, providing the bowler with his first wicket of the match. Six wickets down for 287 runs.

Duckworth Injured
Two wickets had fallen in the morning with only 11 runs added to the board. Bradman's contribution had reached 83.
A. Beckett was sent in to partner Bradman and scored, at first, faster than Bradman.

The batsmen were applauded when the total reached 300. Bradman then being 86 (having added 3 with A. Beckett) and A. Beckett 10.

Bradman reached his 50 through Duckworth not taking the ball clearly because his left thumb was painful, having been "put out" on Saturday when stopping one on the leg side from Geary. Bradman's innings had then lasted 1½ hours. He then got runs more quickly than A. Beckett, reaching 80 when the latter had 23. Extras 6—none having been conceded in the morning—and the total was, therefore, 337 runs for six wickets.

Tate's excellent analysis for the morning was 9 overs, 6 maidens, 11 runs, 1 wicket. White's figures for one period were 10 overs, 7 maidens, 7 runs, no wicket.

NEW YORK &amp; RUBBER SHARES

NEW SCHEME

FAR EAST STOCK MAY BE QUOTED

MAY BE FAR-REACHING

New York, Yesterday.
A scheme is being worked out to establish a special department of the Stock Exchange for trade securities in rubber companies.
The scheme tentatively provides for the listing of British, Dutch and other stocks at present not dealt with on the exchange or the curb market.

It is believed that shares of a great many out of the 1,500 companies producing rubber in the Far East will be available for trading in New York.—Reuter's American Service.

FIRST BLOOD

PROGRESS IN SZECHUEN WAR

SEVERE FIGHTING

General Lou Hsiang, the aggressor in the latest war in Szechuan province, is reported in a Royal Naval communiqué to have won the first battle against the other Generals who have been holding Chungking, the Yangtze Treaty port 1,400 miles from the sea. General Liu Hsiang is advancing up-river, westward, on Fowchow.

Severe fighting is believed to have taken place and a ship loaded with wounded has been seen. At present Chungking does not appear to be threatened and the situation there is, accordingly, more satisfactory.

It is not clear, the communiqué adds, whether General Yang Sen, the stormy petrel of Szechuan, is engaged or not, or which side he is supporting.

A later despatch indicated that no further development occurred over the week-end.

A PERSONAL DEFEAT

M. POINCARÉ AND THE SENATE

Paris, Saturday.
The likelihood of a serious political crisis in the near future is being discussed by political observers as a result of differences between M. Poincaré and the Senate over the proposed increase of the salaries of Senators and Deputies.
M. Poincaré was opposed to an increase at a Cabinet meeting this morning but was in the minority later in the day.

The Senate by 140 votes to 107 adopted a clause in the Finance Bill providing a salary increase, thus inflicting a personal defeat on the Premier.—Reuter.

MARSHAL LI GOING—REPORT

CONFLICTING NEWS

SAID TO HAVE BOOKED BERTH FOR SHANGHAI

ARRIVING HERE TO-MORROW?

Marshal Li Chai-sum, the principal leader of the Canton Government and one of the "big four" of the Kwangsi military group, is stated in several local reports to have booked passage on the s.s. "Artagnan" for Shanghai.

The reports are that Marshal Li is coming down here from Canton, either by special train or by gunboat, to embark. From Shanghai he is to go on to Nanking, the national capital.

Reports also add that Marshal Li has decided to attend the national conference of the Nationalist General Li Tsung-jen, whose gunboat was stranded.

Party, the date for the opening of which had been fixed for to-morrow, New Year's Day.

It is pointed out that although Marshal Li will not reach Nanking in time for the opening ceremonies, the real discussion does not begin until Friday.
On the other hand, it has to be noted that doubts have been expressed.

BOGUS DOCTOR

Judgment was delivered by Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy this morning in the case in which Wong Sing-poon, a Chinese herbalist, was charged with practising medicine for personal gain without being registered. He was found guilty and fined $100.

ed whether, on account of party political differences, the conference will begin to-morrow.

Although Marshal Li has been succeeded by General Chan Ming-shu as chairman of the Provincial Government, he retains the chairmanship of the Canton branch of the Central Political Council, which is a higher institution.

He is still commander-in-chief of the 8th Route of the Nationalist Army, which comprises the units in Kwangtung and Kwangsi. He is, concurrently, Chief of Nationalist General Staff with headquarters in Nanking.

Saturday's "Canton Gazette" refers to Marshal Li's "multifarious duties" and emphatically denies the previous reports that he has decided on any date to leave for the North as yet.

When Marshal Li last returned from Nanking he intimated that he would leave Canton again for the national capital. His departure on this occasion, whether it be to-morrow or later, is of considerable importance because it means, "implicitly or not directly," the commencement of an era in Canton without his presence and his closer attention to affairs in Nanking.

30 Per Cent. Reduction?
Nanking, Yesterday.
General Li Tsung-jen (who is also one of the Kwangsi "big four" and is the leader at Hankow) landed here at noon on Dec. 28 from Hankow. He was delayed en route through his gunboat going aground.

Accordingly, the disbandment

STATE OF AFFAIRS IN PARAGUAY

BIG LOAN

ONE HUNDRED MILLION PESOS FOR NATIONAL DEFENCE

BILL FOR CONGRESS

Asuncion, Yesterday.
The President of Paraguay has introduced into Congress a bill authorising the "otation" of a loan for 100,000,000 pesos for the purposes of national defence.—Reuter's American Service.Washington, Yesterday.
The Paraguayan Legation has announced that Paraguay has accepted "in its main lines" the Pan-American Conference's conciliation protocol, but would like to suggest slight modifications in its wording.—Reuter.

CONCLUDE TO-DAY?

"ANKING" PIRACY CASE AT SESSIONS

SGT. GOLDSMITH'S FIND

Indications are that the "Anking" piracy case" at the Criminal Sessions will conclude to-day.

This morning Lance-Sergeant W. E. Goldsmith of the Water Police described, in evidence, how he arrested prisoner, Yeung Ping-kwan, on board a "Hoklo" junk entering harbour, which had been searched.

Paper money of Java, the Straits Settlements and Hong Kong and silver coins were found in accused's vest pocket, said Sgt. Goldsmith, and a packet of jewellery on a shelf in a hold of which accused was the only occupant.

GERMAN STRIKE

EMPLOYERS &amp; EMPLOYEES REJECT AWARD

50,000 INVOLVED

Berlin, Saturday.
The employers and employees of the North Sea Baltic ports, where a strike has existed for the past three months, have rejected the award of the official arbitrators. It is probable the award will become obligatory. 50,000 men are involved.—Reuter.

HAVANA SUGAR

CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ARE ABOLISHED

Havana, Saturday.
A Presidential decree abolishes restrictions on the forthcoming sugar crop and not only rescinds regulations affecting planting, cutting and grinding, but allows shippers greater freedom in marketing sugar abroad without the supervision of an export commission.

New York's sugar prices have eased slightly following the foregoing announcement.—Reuter.

HELP FOR MINERS

London, Yesterday.
Contributions continue to pour into the Mansion House in response to the appeal of the Prince of Wales, broadcast on Christmas night for gifts for Lord Mayor's Miners Distress Fund.

Gifts received yesterday included a second donation of £1,000 from the City of Norwich and £1,200 from Woking.

The fund has reached a total of £346,000.—British Wireless Service.

conference has been postponed until Jan. 1.

[This date has to be noted in connection with the latest news about Marshal Li Chai-sum of Canton, who works very closely with General Li Tsung-jen.]

It is reported that the hope of this conference is to reduce each Nationalist Army by 80 per cent, by mutual agreement.

Should this be carried out, upwards of a million soldiers will be affected.

General Li Tsung-jen, Kit Han-kow to go down the Yangtze River on the gunboat "Chu Fung" which went aground near Christmas Island. She was not refloated for two days, hence the delay in General Li's arrival at Nanking.—British Naval Wireless.

INSPECTOR - GENERAL RESIGNS

CUSTOMS SURPRISE

DUAL CONTROL OBJECTED TO BY MR. EDWARDES

"GAVE REPEATED WARNINGS"

Peking, To-day.
Mr. A. H. F. Edwardes, official Inspector-General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, has officially informed Reuter that his resignation was handed this morning to Mr. T. V. Soong, Minister of Finance in the National Government of China.

The translation of Mr. Edwardes' despatch to the Finance Minister is given by Reuter as follows:—"The first essential in the efficient working of a service such as the Chinese Maritime Customs is loyal co-operation and discipline among the personnel of all ranks and, for the maintenance of such discipline, it is imperative there should be an individual head of the service recognised and dealt with as such by the entire service and by the Government."

"I have repeatedly warned your Excellency that conditions which have been allowed to grow up in Shanghai during the past year have resulted in a form of dual control of the service which is destroying the fine traditions of efficiency and discipline which have characterised the Customs service during the past seventy years."

MRS. M. B. GROVES

PASSES AWAY ON SATURDAY AT KOWLOON

The death occurred at 4 p.m., on Saturday of Mrs. M. B. Groves of No. 62, Nathan-road, Kowloon.

The deceased (the first European small-pox victim during the present outbreak), was the widow of Mr. Thomas Groves, formerly of the Scottish Oriental Steamship Co., and was a native of New Zealand. She first came to Hong Kong some 28 years ago, shortly after her marriage. Subsequently, she returned to New Zealand for a long period, and returned to the Colony in July this year to stay with her sister, Mrs. Spittles, widow of Mr. Spittles of Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co., Ltd.

Mrs. Groves, who was 68 years of age at the time of her death, leaves a son who is with the Godown Co., here, while a younger son is at school in New Zealand. Her brother, Mr. H. D. Munro, lives in Dunedin, New Zealand. Much sympathy will be felt by a large circle of friends for the relatives in their bereavement.

At 4 p.m., yesterday, the funeral took place at the Protestant Cemetery, Happy Valley.

The service at the graveside was conducted by the Rev. Horace Johnston, pastor of the Union Church, Kowloon.

Mr. Walter M. Groves, the deceased's son, was the chief mourner, while others present were Messrs. Kingshaw, Braley, Seddon, O'Sullivan, Deacon and Waddington acting as pall bearers, and Messrs. Eastman, Weller, Jennings, Anderson, Ormiston, Overy, Crapnell, Smith, Johnson, Griffiths, Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ballantyne, and Mr. and Mrs. Flagg. Wreaths buried with the coffin were those of the sons and sister.

Wreaths were sent by:—Maxine, VI and Hilda, Joe, Marjorie, Henry and her loved ones in New Zealand, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Craig, Messrs. A. W. Smith, D. Mair, J. P. Robinson, A. Urquhart, F. H. ## S.S. "PAUL LECAT" ABLAZE

TOTAL LOSS

CONFLAGRATION IN MARSEILLES DRY DOCK

FRCS. 50,000,000 DAMAGE

Marseilles, Yesterday.
The s.s. "Paul Lecat," one of the best known passenger steamers of the Messageries Maritimes Far Eastern service has been completely burned out in a daylong fire. All the internal fittings have been destroyed and only the shell, plating and frames have been saved. She was in dry dock being overhauled when the fire occurred.

The cause of the disaster is unknown.—Reuter.

Later.
Hope of controlling the fire has been abandoned and the vessel is regarded as a total loss.

The damage is estimated at francs 50,000,000.—Reuter.

A Havas telegram says that there were no casualties.

The Lost Vessel
The s.s. "Paul Lecat" was a vessel of 12,989 tons (gross) and 7,546 tons (net). She was built in 1911 at La Ciotat, France, and was a steel twin screw vessel of 1,140 N. H.P.

She had four decks and was one of the finest passenger vessels calling regularly at Hong Kong.

The "Paul Lecat" arrived here from Yokohama and Shanghai on November 20 last and cleared on the same day. She had 309 passengers with 74 tons of general cargo for Hong Kong and 731 tons for ports beyond.

The "Paul Lecat" was, according to schedule, to leave Marseilles for the Far East on January 11.

UNUSUAL CASE

CHINESE FROM HAIPHONG BEFORE COURT

LACK OF DETAILS

At the Central Magistracy, this morning, Mr. R. E. Lindsell again had before him the Chinese named Chai Hing-chuen, charged, that he unlawfully and without lawful excuse did receive or have in his possession in the Colony on December 27, 1,233 piastres and $1.60 in Hong Kong currency, the same having been stolen outside the Colony from the Wing Hing Mao firm of Rue Chinois, Haiphong, well knowing that the money had been stolen on December 28.

Mr. F. H. Loseby appeared for the defence, whilst Mr. H. C. Macnamara was for the prosecution.

The latter said that his firm, Messrs. Deacons, had received a cable that morning from French solicitors of the complainant firm in Haiphong asking that application be made for the accused to be held here pending the arrival of a witness to prove the case against him. This man was understood to be leaving Haiphong immediately.

Discussion followed as to whether or not the accused should be admitted to bail.

Mr. Lindsell agreed with Mr. Loseby that the position was difficult as at the present moment although in an earlier cable which led to the accused's arrest there was an allegation of embezzlement by the accused of $30,000, the French police have not given any intimation to the local police that extradition proceedings would follow, neither, as far as he knew, had there been any communication between Government and Government.

Ultimately his Worship adjourned the case until Saturday, without bail, and gave an undertaking to Mr. Loseby that should no intimation of extradition proceedings be received in Hong Kong by Saturday he would deal with the case as it now stood.

Mr. Henry P. Hansell, C.V.O., who was tutor to the King's sons, leaves the ranks of the fifteen Gentlemen Ushers to His Majesty after ten years and becomes one of the "Extra Gentlemen Ushers," who number six all told, says "Truth." Although he is older than the King, he does not look his age. He is a man of many inches, and knows how to keep himself in first-class health. It was through his tutoring of Prince Arthur of Connaught that his many qualities were spoken of to the King and Queen who placed the Princes in his care. Sound scholarship and sane teaching aptly describe him. Mr. Hansell, it will be remembered, paid a visit to Malaya not long ago, and was an interested spectator at the cricket matches played by the visiting Australians eleven on the Kuala Lumpur Padang.—M. Prospectus—Issued in Dec., 1923.

The School was originally founded in 1860 as a School for Chinese Girls and was situated at the corner of Bonham-road and East-ern-street. There was not sufficient demand for such a School and in January, 1869, the second and present foundation took place.

From 1869 to 1890 children of both sexes of European, Chinese and Eurasian parentage, were admitted. A separate Girls' School was opened about 1890 and since that date only boys of European, Chinese and Eurasian parentage have been admitted. In recent years as many as twelve nationalities have been represented in the school. The site for the new School on the mainland was begun in March 1924, and the work on the buildings in August, 1924. In July, 1925 owing to local conditions it was decided to omit one storey and the tower. The School moved into the new buildings in March, 1926. From March 1927, to January, 1928, the school buildings were let to the Military Authorities as a hospital with 400 beds; during this period the School was carried on in temporary buildings at the corner of Nathan and Prince Edward-roads.

The Military Authorities added the top storey in 1927, and the School took over its own buildings again on January 31, 1928. The Tower will be built as soon as funds permit. The School has always been well-known throughout the Far East for its high standard in general work, in discipline, and in results in examinations.

There are about 300 boys in the school, about 110 of whom are Boarders. About three quarters of the boys are Chinese.

School fees, dates of payment, etc.—Parents and Guardians should note carefully that three months notice in writing is required before a boy's removal from the school as a boarder or as a Day Boy. If notice is not given in writing then a quarter of one year's fees is due.

Entrance Fee.—Boarders and Day Boys, $10.

Boarders.—School Fee.—The Fee includes Tuition and Board, $520 per annum.

Boarders.—Extra for holidays, $2 per day.

Boarders.—Games Fee, $10 per annum.

Boarders.—Launch and Picnic Fee, $10 per annum.

Boarders.—Locker Fee, $10 per annum.

Day Boys.—School Fee, $160 per annum.

Day Boys.—Games Fee, $5 per annum.

Day Boys.—Locker Fee, $2 per annum.

All Cheques, etc., should be made payable to "The Headmaster, The Diocesan Boys' School."

All Boarders and Day Boys' Fees are due on the following days:—
(1) First day of School after Chinese New Year.
(2) May 1.
(3) First day of School after the Summer Holidays.
(4) November 1.

Boys whose parents do not reside in Hong Kong may be required to be guaranteed by a Guardian or by a Firm in Hong Kong.

Clothing

Each article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name and school number.

All clothing should be as simple as possible, e.g., khaki or white shorts and shirts, with collars attached; dark or light grey flannel suits.

Parents and Guardians are strongly advised, from the point of view of discipline, to curtail a boy's expenditure on clothes, etc., as much as possible within reason.

No boy should have more than $5 pocket money at one time. The Headmaster will take charge of any money entrusted to him for the purchase of clothes, for pocket money, books, etc., which can be supplied through the Bursar.

The Headmaster will not be in any way responsible for private accounts run by boys at local stores.

Every attention is given to the physical education, diet and health of the boys. They are drilled regularly, and in summer have sea-bathing and are taught swimming. Other games are Football, Cricket, Tennis, Volley Ball, Basket Ball, Roller Skating, Ping Pong, etc. All boys are expected to take some part in school games.

The school work is arranged according to the Government Grant-in-Aid Scheme and the regulations of the Hong Kong University Matriculation and Local Examinations. H.M.'s Inspector of English Schools inspects the school annually. Great importance is attached to the facts that English is the medium for instruction in all subjects other than Chinese Language and Literature, and that Chinese is compulsory for all boys. French has been added to the Syllabus in 1923 for Classes 6, 4 and 3, and will eventually be added for Classes 2 and 1.

Parents are requested to send a letter stating the reason of a day scholar's absence. For boarders Saturday afternoon is the regular visiting time but friends from a distance will be welcomed at any time.

Vacations

The vacations consist of about three weeks at Chinese New Year and eight weeks in Summer, with public holidays. Where possible, boys should go to their homes or to friends during the holidays, otherwise it is necessary to make a charge for holidays. The attention of parents and friends is directed to the fact that delay in returning after the holidays is injurious both to the late comers and to the school.

The Committee are prepared to consider favourably any cases of orphans or children left in necessitous circumstances.

If possible Parents and Guardians should arrange an interview with the Head Master or with a Resident Master.

Applications will be received and further information supplied by the Head Master, The Diocesan Boys' School, Hong Kong.

Headmaster's Office Hours for interviews, etc.—9 to 10 a.m. or by appointment.

The School Address is—The Diocesan Boys' School, P. O. Box 33, Hong Kong.

The School Telephone Number is—Kowloon 777.

IN ALSACE

Paris.—The French Government is taking steps to remove the dissatisfaction that led to the Home Rule agitation reaching serious proportions in Alsace.

At its last meeting the Cabinet decided that all officials of the prefectural administration, which represents the central authority in the province, shall be transferred to other posts unless they have an adequate knowledge of German.

By this decision the Prefect of the Bas-Rhin Department and the majority of the sub-prefects of Alsace will be replaced. M. Sussni, the Prefect of the Haut-Rhin Department, is one of the few high officials who will retain their posts.

The driver and fireman of an L.M.S. express goods train escaped with slight injuries when the train was derailed and the engine fell on its side at Crowe, but the guard had to be taken to hospital.

VISIT TO "ANKING"

JUDGE AND JURY VISIT
PIRACY CASE TO-DAY

The "Anking" piracy case which was started at the Criminal Sessions on Friday, was continued on Saturday morning and afternoon, the Court sitting until 6 p.m., when it was found that with eight more witnesses to be heard, it was impossible to finish the case on Saturday, as was at first hoped.

His Lordship the Chief Justice (Sir Henry Gollan, K.C.) accordingly gave an adjournment until 10.30 this morning.

About an hour was spent in a visit to the "Anking" by Judge and Jury on Saturday morning. This was because in the course of his cross-examination of the first assistant commander of the ship, Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., for the defence, gave rise to a doubt as to whether this witness, from his own cabin, which was off a narrow passageway, was able to see what went on on the deck outside, as claimed by the witness in the box.

It was impossible to straighten the point out with the aid of the photographs produced in Court, and His Lordship decided that it would be more satisfactory to proceed to the ship in harbour.

Visit to the "Anking"
The Court adjourned just before noon, and proceeded to the "Anking" on board police launch No. 9. On board the ship the first assistant commander successfully demonstrated that from a port hole in his sleeping cabin, situated behind an outer cabin which he used as an office, a view could be had of the deck outside.

On board the "Anking" it was learned that the ship was due to sail from Hong Kong at 9 a.m., on New Year's Day, and on returning to Queen's Pier just before 1 p.m., His Lordship decided to resume at 2.15 in order to finish off all the witnesses from the ship.

These were Hong Woon-maa, the first assistant commander, whose evidence was completed on Friday afternoon and was cross-examined by Mr. Alabaster at the resumption on Saturday morning; and Liu Yeung the wireless operator; and Ng Tai-sam and Chau Sau-yim, both saloon boys, who gave evidence in the afternoon. All these witnesses deposed that they picked the accused (Yuen Ping-kwan) out without hesitation at an identification parade held in Victoria Jail on November 4 last.

Evidence
Hong, Liu, Ng and Chau all said that at some time or other during the time the "Anking" was under the control of the pirates they saw the accused in the first class saloon lying on a settee. They were all agreed that the accused carried a short firearm which was fastened to his right wrist. Two of the witnesses also said that the accused appeared to be seaisick.

Hong, in his cross-examination, said that he spent most of the time in the saloon, but on September 28 (two days after the ship was seized at about 6.50 p.m., on the 26th), he went to his own cabin. From this place he saw three class passengers—being brought up the hatchway from the lower deck and searched by the accused and three or four other men who were standing in the shade shed by the super-structure. Afterwards the pirates went down to the lower deck, where the witness presumed they searched the female passengers located in another part of this deck.

Liu, the wireless operator, said that he first saw the accused soon after the pirates seized the ship. He was seized by two men outside his own cabin, and after the pirates had severed the wireless leads on the roof of his cabin, they took him to the Captain's cabin. Soon afterwards the accused came in and asked witness where the firearms were kept, and when he said he did not know, the accused struck him on the chest saying "You are lying."

What Saloon Boys Remembered
Ng, one of the saloon boys, said he served the accused twice whilst the latter was lying on the settee in the saloon, first with coffee and again with tea and milk. Chau, the other saloon boy, said he did not serve the accused, but also saw him on the settee, and later saw him talking with other armed men.

An absent ship's witness was Li Ping-shan, who was boatswain on the "Anking" at the time of the piracy. Mr. Fitzroy (for the Crown) called this man's son, Li Siu-sing, a seaman on the ship to prove that the witness had gone to the country because of illness and was still ill there.

The Bodies
Afterwards, Li Ping-sang's evidence was read in Court. In this statement Li said that on the 27th the pirates asked him to throw the bodies of the Chief Officer, Chief Engineer and the Chinese quartermaster overboard. The bodies of the two Europeans were covered with blood, but he could not see any wounds. He wanted to examine the bodies but the pirates would not allow him to do so. Two of the bodies were on deck, whilst that of the Chief Engineer was outside the Doctor's cabin. All three bodies were stiff when thrown overboard. Three seamen assisted the witness to put the bodies overboard.
Other witnesses were examined this morning.

OCEAN TRAVEL

COMPULSORY PLAN OF INSURANCE

The report that an American passenger has begun an action, claiming $10,000 for injuries and loss of effects in the "Vestria" disaster, serves as a reminder that the International Maritime Committee has under consideration a scheme for the compulsory insurance of passengers at sea.

This scheme has for its object the abolition of the varying liability which at present falls upon shipowners for loss of life or personal injury under national laws and the substitution of an international code by which shipowners would voluntarily assume an obligation to compensate, at an agreed scale, all passengers accidentally injured in the course of a voyage, and the dependants of those who lost their lives by accident.

Originally it was intended that the scheme should apply only to emigrants, but it has developed until it is now proposed to include passengers of all classes. The arguments in its favour are that it will provide a definite basis on which all claims for accident could be adjusted, and would do away with the often expensive litigation which is inevitable in cases of more than minor importance.

Further, the scheme would ensure that the poorer class of passenger, often dependent upon continued health and activity for a livelihood, would receive compensation in the event of fortuitous accident for which the shipowner could not legally be held liable. An important feature of the scheme is that the contract of insurance would form part of the contract of carriage, and would only be rendered void by accident caused by the wilful misconduct of the injured passenger.

The scheme, which has already been discussed by the Conferences held by the International Maritime Committee at Gothenburg in 1923, and Amsterdam in 1927, is approaching completion, and it is probable that at the Conference which will be held next year a draft convention will be adopted. The subsequent process would be the submission of the draft to the Brussels Diplomatic Conference, at which the representatives of those nations which intend to adopt the scheme would attach their signatures, after which the signatory nations would, in due course, enact the necessary legislation.

The proposal has the approval of many representative bodies, including the International Labour Bureau, but difficulties have been encountered in dealing with questions arising in discussion since there is no body representative of ocean travellers, as such, by which their views can be expressed.

WATER POLICE

A NEW LAUNCH AT HUNGHOM

An addition to the fleet of launches of the Water Police was made when a new vessel, 100 feet long and 21 feet beam, was launched from the slip-way of Messrs. W. S. Bailey & Co., Ltd., at Hunghom on Friday.

The launch is to be known as "No. 3 Police" and is constructed of steel, with a deckhouse of the same material, besides the bridge deck, saloon, laboratory and bathroom, crew's quarters forward and aft. A gun is mounted forward, and both the wireless room and wheel house are shielded with bullet proof "dodgers."

The engines are Twin triples of 350 horse power given a speed of 10 1/2 knots.

The visitors included the Captain Superintendent of Police, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C.M.G., and Mrs. Wolfe, Mr. L. H. C. (Cuthrop, Asst. Superintendent of Police and Mr. T. W. H. Hosegood, Asst. Harbour Master; Mr. Robert Hall and Mrs. Hall, Mr. Percy Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Hurst, Captain K. Y. Wu; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bailey, Mr. C. F. Mendham, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fraser, Mr. George Wittich, Mr. A. A. Dand and Mr. James Jack.

After the launching ceremony, which was successfully performed at 9.15 p.m., in moonlight, with the customary breaking of a bottle of champagne over the bow, the party adjourned to the building's office where refreshments were served.

In a neat speech, Mr. W. S. Bailey congratulated the Captain Superintendent of the Police upon the addition of the fleet, which he said, would further safeguard our trade. A large amount of the success of the new vessel was due to the able supervision of Mr. R. Hall, Assistant Government surveyor.

At last was then drunk to the new vessel, to which the Hon. Mr. Wolfe, in reply, complimented the builders upon their fine work.

Mr. Hall and Mr. Mendham also spoke, the latter thanking Mr. Bailey on behalf of the staff.

HONG KONG TIDE.

The tide-table given below has been obtained by aid of the Tide-predicting Machine, which includes 40 components for the better prediction of tides, from the result of the analysis of the tide observations, taken at the Kaula tidal observatory under the direction of Dr. Dobereck during the years 1887-1888 and 1889.

The times and heights are given for Kaula; but they may be used for the Victoria Naval Yard and Aberdeen, the differences being very small. The times of high and low water must not be considered to coincide with the times of slack-water and change of current, the two phenomena being quite distinct.

CHITTAGONG, INDIA

OF PORT

REMOVING BARS

Aside from Calcutta, Bengal now has another major port. Chittagong, in Eastern Bengal, was granted this status on April 1, 1923,
which means that its statutory authority will be transferred from the local government to the Governor-General in Council, which will make possible various improvements. The port is located on the right bank of the river Karnafull at a distance of five miles from the open sea.

As an inland port, Chittagong is protected from the sea and provided with jetties and anchorages to suit inland as well as seagoing craft of all kinds. The port has been handicapped somewhat because of the insufficiency of water in the river, preventing deep-draft steamers from taking full cargoes;
but provision is being made to overcome this difficulty. A powerful dredger, costing 1,600,000 rupees, has been recently delivered. This will remove sandy bars at the month of the Karnafull so as to admit big steamers from the Bay of Bengal within port limits.

The Jetties

Chittagong is considered one of the cleanest cargo shipping ports in the world, writes Mr. W. G. Patterson, Assistant U. S. Trade Commissioner at Calcutta, in "Commerce Reports." The jetties are located approximately five miles from the open sea and five miles from the city proper. The draft of vessels in and out is governed by the water available over the outer bar. Average draft of all the year round is 21 ft.,
and the maximum is 28 ft.;
the largest draft of any vessel that has ever entered the port was 26 ft. 4 in. Owing to the nature of the channel, ships cannot enter with safety which are over 600 feet in length.

At present there are four jetties at double moorings, all operated by the Assam Bengal Railway; they are 1,380 feet long and able to berth four large steamers. "Aside" from the jetties, cargo may be loaded and discharged by means of lighters.
The jetties are equipped with 20 hydraulic cranes of 35 cwt.
capacity, and a radius of 22 feet.
Each crane is capable of lifting five tons at a radius of 22 feet,
and 10 tons at 11 feet radius.
Anything beyond this capacity up to 20 tons is lifted ashore by the ships gear and handled ashore by steam cranes. Assembled locomotives have been discharged on their wheels direct for the ship to railway tracks on the jetties.

The unloading capacity of each crane is 350 tons per day, but that for grain is much larger, and reaches 600 to 1,000 tons per day, depending largely on the size of the vessel. The record reached for ordinary cargo was 2,200 tons per day, for a 5-hatch vessel with five cranes working eight hours.

NORWEGIAN FLEET

MERCANTILE DEVELOPMENT
IN RECENT YEARS

TONNAGE INCREASE

The State Board of Shipping has issued its report on the situation of the merchant fleet of Norway
during the past year as compared with previous years, the figures comprising steamers and motor-ships of 25 gross tons and over and sailing vessels of 50 tons and over.

At the end of 1927 the report states that the number of steamers, motorships and sailing vessels was 3,692, of 2,944,000 gross register tons, as compared with 3,719 of 2,852,000 gross tons at the close of 1926, and 3,290, of 2,586,000 gross tons at the end of 1913. A comparison shows that there was a net increase of 92,000
gross tons in 1927 over 1926.
Motorships increased by 110,000 tons, while the steam and sailing ships were fewer. New construction in Norway only represented
5,614 tons last year. To a material extent the growth of the fleet was brought about by the purchase of new ships built abroad,
and a considerable tonnage of second-hand ships was also acquired, while at the same time a greater tonnage of old ships was disposed of by Norway to other countries.

Quoting from statistics, ascertained by the Norske Veritas Bureau, concerning ships of 100
gross tons upwards, the report shows that 31 ships of a total of 26,875 gross tons were lost in 1927, the loss percentage having been 0.97 per cent. This contrasts with 1.06 per cent. in 1924, and 1.59 per cent. in 1923. The average in the years 1910-1914 was 3.04 per cent. In 1921-1925, war losses not being included.

The fleet is now composed of ships of more recent construction than prior to the war. Last year for instance, 65.4 per cent. of the entire merchant fleet was of less than an age of 15 years, this proportion comparing with 47.9 per cent. in 1913. Detailing the percentage for 1927, it is stated that out of 65.4 per cent., 21.9 per cent.
represented ships of less than 15 years, 23.9 per cent. those of between 10 and 15 years. Thus a large part of the merchant fleet consists of very new ships. The average size of the ships has also grown. In 1913 ships of over 2,000 gross tons formed 44 per cent. of the entire steam and motor tonnage, while the corresponding
The increase has been the greatest in ships of over 4,000 tons.

CANADIAN LAKES

OCEAN-GOING VESSELS' NEW ROUTE

WELLAND CANAL

The new Welland Ship Canal, joining Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, which is now under construction, will be completed and ready for traffic in 1930. This new canal will bring to fruition an enterprise which was initiated more than a century ago. The object of the canal has been from its original construction in 1824 to secure permanently for the St.
Lawrence route the carrying trade of the Great Lakes, the great inland waterway system which reaches the heart of the North American Continent.

The new canal, which will have a 25-foot channel, will accommodate the larger Lake boats, which have heretofore been forced to discharge east-borne cargoes at Erie ports. In future these boats will be able to ply to the port of Prescott, Ontario, on the St. Lawrence River, within 115 miles of the ocean port of Montreal.

From Prescott to Montreal cargoes will be transhipped by rail or in boats of 14 feet draft. The question of deepening the channel of the St. Lawrence along this route, which would make the entire waterway system from Montreal to the head of Lake Superior an ocean highway, is an active issue of Canadian public policy.

As for part of the way, however,
the river forms the international boundary between Canada and the United States the question is not one of domestic concern alone, and up to the present no decision has been reached.

The completion of the Welland Ship Canal will direct through Canadian ports much of the Lake-borne grain cargoes which have previously been discharged at Lake Erie ports. Heretofore, also, a considerable portion of the western Canadian grain has been discharged at Buffalo, N.Y., for shipment through the North Atlantic ports of the United States. At the last session of the Canadian Parliament, 1,500,000 dollars were voted as a progress appropriation for the erection of a large elevator and the construction of new docks at Prescott. A large dry dock and coaling station for the accommodation and fuelling of upper Lake vessels will also be established at this port.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

As this is the last day of the year 1928 and we are on the eve of a New Year it would be well to look back a little at what has taken place—and to try to anticipate somewhat as to what may be in store during the next brief milestone—1929. Both politically and economically Canton, to say nothing of China as a whole, has continued to be almost as perturbed as during the few years previously. The Colony naturally and necessarily has suffered in consequence. At the beginning of 1928 the appalling "Red" upheaval in Canton and the minor disturbances in Kwang-tung Province that had happened in the last month of 1927 continued to have a very adverse effect upon the Colony's commerce with China's great commercial centre of the South, even despite the splendid efforts of our officials and those of Canton to put matters on a sound and sensible basis. The very friendly exchanges that had taken place between Hong Kong's Government and Marshal Li Chai-sum and his colleagues promised well and in some respects came up to expectation. But it was inevitable that while the upheaval
China the desired improvement could not materialise.
These was, however, compared with the previous twelve months, marked advance, though the progressiveness has been very slow and our business firms have still a long way to go, before anything approaching the trade of even five years ago will be reached. Let us hope—for we must be optimistic—that 1929 will show a definite and decided improvement and that by next New Year's eve

we shall have much more substantial grounds for all-round congratulation.

We feel sure that the Government and, for that matter, all who realise the importance of cultivating the friendliest of relations with our neighbours in Canton and Kwangtung and throughout China generally, will continue to work in the right direction, not for the sake of Hong Kong alone
but so that the stability and progress of China—which at last gives promise of materialising—
may all the sooner be realised.

As for what might be termed our Government's purely domestic affairs, it might be said, we believe, that the year's business has on the whole been satisfactory. The various departments have been efficiently conducted and the administration generally has been such that it reflects much credit upon His Excellency the Governor and of his excellent substitute of the past few months
—His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government.

The one serious blemish has been the state of affairs as to Victoria's water supply, for, decidedly, far too much optimism, mixed with,
we fear, not a little laxity on the part of those responsible, has been in evidence. There has been of late, however, a speeding-up towards effecting a remedy in the unhappy event of something more serious developing; and with that in mind we shall hope for the best. Other matters that have not been quite so satisfactory as they might have been, are the Government's contribution to the Kai Tak aerodrome and the apparent policy of the Government as to the Stamp Bill which will unquestionably inflict much harm to local sharebrokers, who surely have been hit hard enough during the past few years. Regarding the aerodrome, timely pressure in the right manner and direction might have led to a more satisfactory conclusion so far as the Colony is concerned, for if ever there was a time for retrenchment, and solid economy
being practised here it is now.
As to the Stamp Bill there is still time for the Government to adopt a more equitable policy, and we trust that such a policy will be adopted before it is too late. We must not risk having the Colony's business affairs, in any quarter, hampered at a time when what is urgently needed, is that every facility should be afforded by the Government towards fostering all legitimate enterprise.

This, together with the efforts towards helping to preserve our water supply, is a matter that should, and probably will, have the Government's very serious consideration.

If the Colony's commerce continues to improve, then we may look forward to 1929 more hopefully than we looked forward to the opening of the year now expiring. The Government has done much and many are probably right in believing that it can do more. Throughout 1929 we shall continue to hope optimistically.

The "China Mail" will not be published to-morrow (New Year's Day). Publication will be resumed on Wednesday when, as today, the subscribers' editions will contain close of play, "Test" cricket scores.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of God and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kinder hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.
—Tennyson.

Sing the song of great joy that the angels began;
Sing of glory to God and of goodwill to man;
Hark! joining in chorus the heavens bend o'er us!
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like
the sun;
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one.
—Whittier.

Twenty-two cases of small-pox (including one "British") were notified yesterday.

Mr. P. M. Hodgson returned to the Colony from Manila by the s.s.
"President Jackson" yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Patterson were passengers for Hong Kong
by the s.s. "President Jackson" which arrived in port from Manila yesterday.

Chen Sang, a Chinese mechanic employed at Shamshui, was killed on Saturday morning as the result of a motor accident at the junction of Prince Edward-road and the Leichikok-road, Kowloon.

Armed with revolvers, three robbers succeeded in getting away with property valued at $400
from a Chinese undertaker's shop at 39, Portland-street, Yaumatei, on Saturday night. So far no arrest has been made.

A Chinese seaman, aged 23
years, yesterday afternoon seriously injured, through being jammed between a boat and a stone pier at Jardine's Sugar Refinery. He was removed to the hospital by the police.

At 12 noon to-morrow, the Chinese Seamen's Associated Union of Hong Kong is to carry out the "hoisting of the flag"
ceremony at the Union's premises,
Nos. 15 and 16, Connaught-road
Central to be followed by a reception.

Mr. N. Drummond of the Tai-koo sugar refinery was called to give evidence at the Central Magistracy on Saturday when two Chinese were charged with assaulting a woman with the intent to rob her. They were found guilty and sentenced to six months' hard labour each.

Mr. Denis H. Hazel of the
A.P.M. Ltd., has just arrived from Shanghai and will remain in Hong Kong until about the middle of March. Mr. Hazel is accompanied by his wife and child. It may be recalled that Mrs. Hazel was a popular hostess when she last visited Hong Kong twelve months ago.

An enjoyable concert was given at the Military Hospital on Friday afternoon. Those taking part were Mrs. Richards, Mrs.
Womack, M. Hannibal and Mr.
Burnett. Mr. Fountain was the accompanist. Owing to illness of two of the members, Mrs.
Womack at short notice filed a place. A hearty vote of thanks was given by Col. Bostock to the Rev. Mr. Updell, for arranging the vocalists and to those contributing to the programme.

To-day 9 p.m. time signals on the Radio Mast at the Observatory will be repeated from 11.55
p.m. to midnight; the last signal indicating the close of the year 1928.

The new school established by the Hong Kong Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, at the Chamber, is to be formally opened at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow when a reception will be held.

Mr. Van Epps, of No. 41, Morrison Hill-road, reported to the police that while he was driving
his car in Queen's-road yesterday,
a Chinese woman named Cheng Sze (40) suddenly crossed the road at the junction of Queen's-street. She was knocked down and suffered injury to her legs.
Mr. Van Epps took her to hospital in his car.

The police received a report last night at the Gough Hill Police Station that motor car, No. 1867, was found in a damaged condition at 11.45 p.m., by the side of the road near the Peak Church. It is understood that the car is owned by a Mr. Brown, but no report of any accident has been made to the police concerning this car. The damage is slight.

KWONG WAH

APPEAL BY MEDICAL COLLEGE

FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Canton, To-day.
The Kwong Wah Medical College is conducting a campaign to raise $100,000 to improve the laboratories and other medical facilities of that institution.

Both the students and professors are taking an active part in securing donations until the desired
mark is reached. Dr. Cheng Ho, M.D., president of the college, is sparing no efforts for the improvement of that medical college which is ranked as the oldest and one of the best known institutions in Canton.

Kwong Wah includes an up-to-date hospital where medical and surgical treatments are afforded to patients at very moderate charges. The college and hospital are adjoined to each other, so that the undergraduates can have practical training combined with theoretical instructions.

It is a private concern founded by a group of Chinese promoters who are interested in the advancement of medical science for service to the community, and all profits derived and funds raised are invested for the betterment of that institution. Kwong Wah has a continuous existence
where more than twenty years
during which the number of students has been steadily increasing. The present figures exceed three hundred.

MACDONA PLAYERS

COMING WITH G. B. S.
REPERTORY

HONG KONG SEASON

George Bernard Shaw is a genius of the modern theatre, a master of the human tragi-comedy, with the power of releasing us from the prison of our selves. His plays are life intensified. He shows us ourselves, our civilisation, the humour and the bitterness, the good and the evil; and always he makes us laugh. His deepest earnestness is touched with laughter. "The offener you laugh the better," he has written, "because by laughter only can you destroy evil without malice, and affirm good fellowship without mawkishness."

Some of Mr. Shaw's most popular plays are to be presented by the Macdonna players, who have won for themselves all through Great Britain a reputation for their presentation. The players include: Terence O'Brien, Stanley Drewitt, A. S. Homewood, F. W.
Kavanagh, Frederick Keen,
Arnold Walsh, R. Claude Pascoe,
Cecil De Lee, Joan Hopegood,
Daphne Carr, Joan Blair, Muriel
Hutchinson, Ivy Walenn, Katherine Cariton.

Thomas A. Randell, the advance manager of Charles Macdonna, arrived yesterday by the s.s.
"Atreus" from Singapore and is staying at the "King Edward" Hotel. Details of the plays and players will be announced later.

INDIAN LADY'S DEATH

The death occurred at 1 a.m.
on Saturday of Mrs. Arculli, mother of Mr. F. M. el Arculli, the local cricketer, for whom much sympathy will be felt.

Death was due to pleurisy, and followed an operation on Friday evening. The deceased lady was about 50 years of age, and was a sister-in-law of Mr. A. el Arculli, the local solicitor.

The funeral took place at the Mohammedan Cemetery, Happy
Valley, on Saturday afternoon.
It was well attended by members of the local Indian community, by whom the Arculli family is highly esteemed.

P'RAPS-P'RAPSNOT!

Mr. Honeymoon: "Sweetheart, your lips are like rubies, and your cheeks remind me of roses!" Mrs. Honeymoon: "Oh, you heartless bigamist! Go back to your Ruby and your Rose!"

The greengrocer was standing at his shop door when an old lady came along to buy some gooseberries. She looked at the fruit and then turned to the green-grocer. "Those gooseberries look rather dirty, don't you think?"
she said. "Well madam," retorted
the greengrocer, "you can't expect me to wash their faces and part their hair in the middle for fourpence a pound, can you?"

Boarder: "What's for breakfast? I hope it isn't ham and eggs again."

Maid: "No, sir, not ham and eggs this morning."
"Thank goodness! What is it?"
"Only ham!"

Cook (applying for situation):
"Besides them references, ma'am, perhaps you'd like to see the photos I've had took eight times
on one of them new machines.
From the top down, I've registered Fear, Ope, Joy, Disdain, Anger, Old-fashioned, Terror, and Sarcastic like."

The young salesman placed his sample case on the porch, and began genially:

"How do you do? I should like to introduce you to our new corn razor."

"You needn't waste your time," replied the farmer sharply. "An", what's more, young feller, that smart city slang won't get you very far in these parts. The next farm you stop at you'd better call a scythe a scythe."

The old lady sat at her cottage window watching the traffic pass through the village, which was on the main road to London. For the third time that day a car broke down within view.

"Well, well, dear," she said to her daughter, "here's another motor-car broken down. It must be those raw materials they use in the factories."

The circus proprietor was talking to the manager about the storm they had the previous night. "I see the storm has blown down one of our tents," he said. "Any other damage?"
"Rather," answered the manager. "The rain has given the indiarubber man stiffness in the joints, and washed all the marks off the tattooed man."

As Mrs. Murphy handed over her books in the free library, she sincerely hoped that the librarian would not inspect them too closely. But, unfortunately, the librarian had received strict orders to open all books and to make a charge of two pence, should a page happen to be torn.

So, of course, he noticed that the old lady's book was damaged.
"Ah!" he cried, "Page ninety-three torn!" — he turned over quickly—"Begorrah! He yelled
— "An' ninety-four torn too!
That'll be fourpence ye owe the institution, Mrs. Murphy."

The newly-married couple sat at the tea-table in the middle of which was wife's first cake.

"Now, Tom," said she. "You must try my cake—it's a new idea
I got from a newspaper, and I think it's a great success!"

Tom helped himself to a slice and sampled the same. Silently he chewed and chewed—it was heavy and solid as clay, with dark lumps.

"Lovely, isn't it?" said she, beaming.

"Er—yes, dear!" he replied.

"What—er—do you call this sort of cake?"

"It's a date cake!" said his wife, triumphantly.

"Well, dear," said he, "don't you think the date goes back a bit too far?"

Jones was fond of taking a rise out of the other fellows in the office, and always had some new
"stunt" on.

He came in the other morning with an account of a big fire that had taken place in the neighbourhood.

"Did any of you fellows see it?"

he asked of the throng who gathered round him to hear the news.

It appeared that nobody present had seen it, but several of them had read about it in the newspapers.

"It was some blaze," said Jones,
when Brown, who saw that before long Jones would catch them
if they were not careful, broke in:

"Yes, there were several narrow escapes."

"Narrow escapes," said Jones, astonished. "I didn't see them.
Where were they?"

"Oh, the firemen brought them," replied Brown coolly.

FILIPINO PATRIOT

A COMMEMORATION
GATHERING

AT PENINSULA HOTEL

Last evening the members of the local Filipino community commemorated the anniversary of the death of Rizal, the Filipino patriot, by holding a concert and dance on the Roof Garden of the Peninsula Hotel, Kowloon.

Dr. J. Pnes, Chairman of the Filipino Club, welcomed the guests and referred them to a short history of the famous leader printed out on the programme.

Then followed a very enjoyable concert, in which a symphony orchestra composed of members of the community took part and demonstrated that there is a considerable amount of musical talent among the local Filipinos.

The symphony concert included Delibes' "Dalla Intermezzo" and Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours," and items were contributed by Mr. C. Y. Pasang (violin), Mr. G. d'Aquino (vocal) and Professor A. S. Santiago (piano). Professor F. Gonzales was accompanist.

The dancing which followed was heartily enjoyed.

HOW TO REDUCE

Harry Langdon, First National Comedy king, has discovered a new method and infallible method of reducing. He claims that by following his procedure any human being can take off not only all superfluous flesh, but even all essential flesh.

The Moon-faced comedian's revolutionary method is set forth in his new comedy, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," which will be screened at the Majestic Theatre, Kowloon, from to-day till Wednesday. It consists in tying a heavy weight on to one foot, tossing this weight in a moving freight car and then running along with the train on the other foot. This procedure, the comedian asserts will take off ten pounds a mile.

In "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," Harry uses a ball and chain for the necessary weight. Not having too much avoidable, he only accompanies the train—for about five minutes.

Beautiful Jean Crawford plays opposite the comedian. The rest of the highly able cast includes Tom Murray, Edward Davis, Alex. Francis, and Brooks Benedict.

GEN. LUDENDORFF

WHEN THE EX-KAISER LOST
POWER

AT END OF THE WAR

Berlin.—The all-powerful dictatorship exercised by General Ludendorff and the total impotence of the Kaiser "during the second half of the War" has never been described with such incisive clarity as in a book on the origin of the German Republic by the Berlin historian, Artur Rosenberg, now published.

"On Aug. 29, 1918," he says, "the Kaiser was compelled by feeling in the Army and the people to dismiss his Chief of Staff, General Falkenhayn. With this day begins the liquidation of the Bismarckian Empire, and, if you like, the German revolution." In his place came Hindenburg, together with Ludendorff, who assumed the newly-created title of "First Quartermaster-General," and was henceforth the real master of the Kaiser's Army and nation. "Ludendorff," says Herr Rosenberg, "devised the plan of operations and Hindenburg covered them with his name. The Kaiser thereby lost the supreme command of the Army which he at least formally retained till August, 1918."

Ludendorff's Methods

Ludendorff's method of usurping the dictatorship was a simple one. Whenever any military or political proposal came up of which he disapproved, he exerted pressure by declaring that he could not bear the "responsibility."

"Imperial authority had sunk so low and that of the two Army commanders had grown so strong, that Wilhelm II. was powerless against them. If the Kaiser had attempted in 1917 to suppress Ludendorff, the Ludendorff crisis would very soon have become the Kaiser crisis."

Ludendorff made and unmade Chancellors. When Ludendorff objected to Bethmann Holweg's policy Bethmann Holweg went. Ludendorff on the fleeting impression of a single meeting approved of Michaelis, Michaelis became Chancellor.

"That is how Germany was ruled during the War," he says. Ludendorff similarly reserved the right to determine the ex-Kaiser's personal environment at Court. He objected to von Valentini as chief of the civil cabinet, and the Kaiser dismissed von Valentini to order. The Kaiser strongly felt the humiliation of his position, and as usual found vent for his feelings in marginal notes.

In January, 1918, a Berlin newspaper published an article on the relations between Ludendorff and Kuhlmann, the ex-Foreign Secretary, another of Ludendorff's victims. Against all the passages attacking Ludendorff the Kaiser would write "Yes," "Quite Right," "Excellent." The article hinted that all was not well with the relations between the military and political leadership, whereas the Kaiser wrote, "Because the Kaiser is ignored by both sides."

Bismarck Avenged
"That," says Herr Rosenberg, "is the same Wilhelm II. who in 1890 could drive away a Bismarck, and who was once minded to trample down everything that opposed his path. But now he had found his master in Ludendorff. The Kaiser was ignored on all sides. Bismarck was avenged."

It is almost comic to turn from this account to an article published by Ludendorff to-day, in which he violently seconds the ex-Crown Prince's fulminations against Prince Max of Baden, Hindenburg, and others for virtually deposing the Kaiser.

ICHANG "BOYCOTT"

PILOTS KEPT AWAY FROM
B. & S. SHIPS

Ichang, Saturday.
The situation here remains unchanged.

Ichang, Friday.
The Society waging a boycott against the Japanese has now prevented pilots from going aboard vessels of the China Navigation Co., Ltd. (Messrs. Butterfield and Swire). The boycott men's excuse is that they wish to search the cargoes carried.

This appears to be the only Yangtze port where the anti-Japanese boycott is enforced in any way, and it seems doubtful whether there are more in the movement than a local "squeeze" committee endeavouring to force their own terms on shippers.—British Naval Wireless.

Mr. J. Akhurst, of Durkin's road, East Grinstead, Surrey, who was 98 last month, is a brother of Mr. C. Akhurst, of 10, Leopold-road, East Finchley, Middlesex, who is 100 years old.

Lieutenant-General Baron Jacques de Dixmude, who died in Brussels recently, aged 70, served in the front line throughout the war.

THE HIGHER SLANG

"MUCH COMMONPLACES" OF SPEECH

CLICHES OF THE LANGUAGE

A committee appointed by the Board of Education has just issued a report in which it is stated that children no longer understand "the rich commonplaces of traditional English speech," such as a "mess of pottage," "Job's comforters," and "a barren fig tree."

In so far as this is evidence that modern children, or a great number of them, are less familiar with the Bible than their fathers were, this is to be regretted (writes Robert Lynd in the "Daily News"). It is important that everybody should know the great cliches of the language and that nobody should use them.

I remember a woman who, on the appearance of tea, used always to exclaim with a prim smile, "Ah, the cup that cheers!"—a phrase, by the way, which is not in the Bible, and, apart from that, is a misquotation. I never heard her using it without wishing that she had been less familiar with the classics of English literature, and at least that she could have concealed her familiarity in presence of a teapot.

Not For Talking

The use of phrases like this is more a kind of higher slang. It is comparable to the old fashion of quoting Latin tags in the House of Commons. It is an excellent thing to know Latin, but there is no more merit in quoting a Latin tag than in talking the latest slang recorded in the works of Mr. P. C. Wodehouse. It is a pity not to know the latest slang, but it is equally a pity to talk it—or, at least, to talk nothing else.

At the same time, I think the gradual disappearance of the higher slang from conversation is an ominous sign. It means that school-children are being educated more and more on modern authors and are being given the works of contemporary poets and essayists to read instead of the works of the acknowledged masters of the past. I am sure this is all wrong.

It is highly important that a child should be interested in contemporary life and contemporary things, but it is equally important that it should have a sense of the past. As it does not need to go to school in order to become interested in contemporary things, I should be inclined to leave that part of its education to itself. If it does not discover Shakespeare or Milton at school, however, it may never discover them.

Not that we of the older generations were taught very good poetry in our infancy. "The Village Blacksmith" is all very well, and I should be sorry to be ignorant of it, but Mr. de la Mare has written better poems than that. Then there was "The Arab's Farewell to His Steed," and Mr. W. B. Yeats rises to a higher level than that. "Hohenlinden" and "The Battle of the Baltic" were livelier, but no one to-day would dream of counting them among the glories of English literature. At the same time, they were all part of a tradition, and reminded us that we had ancestors.

A Pity

Apart from this, it would be a pity to see the higher slang fading entirely out of common speech. If the higher slang disappears the lower slang, which will probably be a bad imitation of the excellent slang of America, will take its place. And the higher slang can only be learned from the standard authors—Shakespeare, Milton, Pope, Goldsmith, Gray, Wordsworth, Dickens, and Tennyson.

Imagine a world so ignorant that it could not understand an allusion to "what the soldier said," that knew nothing of the schooner "Hesperus," or that had never heard that an honest man's the noblest work of God, and you will realise how impoverished it would be in imagination. If you met a man who did not know that full many a flower is born to blush unseen, and waste its sweetness on the desert air, would you not regard him as little better than an imbecile?

These cliches, odious as they are in their excessive use, are nevertheless evidence of a rich and varied imaginative background in which century is piled behind century. For this reason I am inclined to think that it is better that a child should be brought up as to be able to quote Dr. Johnson, wrong than so as to be able to quote even Mr. Bernard Shaw right.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY

A man who is very interested in the Government's scheme for supplying cheap electricity is the man who is responsible for Britain's electric lighting system, Colonel R. E. B. Crompton, now 83, and extremely busy in his laboratory at Kensington Court, W.

Colonel Crompton took a "Daily Mail" reporter to the lighting station at the back of his house, which he built in 1886, the oldest supply company in the world, and he chuckled as he said: "Those lights have been burning ever since. They were there before Edison had even dreamed of it. We paid a dividend in 1888, and there was a slump in gas shares."

Colonel Crompton asked how he managed to keep so fit at his age, remarked: "I work hard."

FANCY SOCCER

FINE FUN ON K.F.C. GROUND

TO-MORROW MORNING

On New Year's Day at the Kowloon Football Club ground a grand charity fancy dress football match—"Married" v. "Single"—should provide good holiday fare. The kick-off is timed for 11 a.m. but long before this hour Carnival proceedings will take place to attract the local crowd.

At 10.30 a parade of the officials and attendants will start "beating" the outworks of the football ground and a ready response is expected from the Scots: special arrangements have been made for the entry of Aberdonians who have come forward and offered to pay twice. It is hoped a Band of remarkable musical talent will also accompany the Parade.

Mayor Kicks Off

The grand entry to the Football ground promises outstanding features. His Worship the Mayor of De Tong and Lady De Tong will be introduced to the players and their numerous followers, after which His Worship has promised to kick off.

The football match has been arranged to help the Hong Kong Football Association to improve certain of their rules. For instance, more than one referee, it is thought, is absolutely essential, while as regards linesmen, so great have been the number of Volunteers for this lucrative position that the touch line could almost be dispensed with. A lot of these are necessary, their duties being to assist the referees, this feature being expected to cause a slight difference of opinion at times.

Collecting Convicts

By the kindness of the Police Authorities of "De Tong" Convicts from the local gaol will be provided with collecting boxes, and will assist generally with the cash.

The usual formation, XI, aside is being improved upon, as there are too many dull moments in an ordinary match. There will be at least 18 a side, and perhaps more, the formation of the team actually being kept a profound secret as ideas are so quickly stolen in Hong Kong.

The goalkeepers have been chosen with discretion. There will be more than one and when in action there will be not much spare space in the goal for the ball to get through. This idea was really the married men's, but the single men have also adopted it which is considered sharp practice.

All players will be vaccinated before the start.

The Captain of the Married Men is R. Clarke. Friends know him under the pseudonym of "Nobby" while G. S. McBlakeney, D.F. & C.S. Coy. will lead the Singles in action.

The Rules.

In addition to St. John's Ambulance, it is hoped to have the assistance of a few ambulances to remove the single men as they drop out. The match, it is understood, will be under Marquis of Queensberry Rules, and penalty goals will only be scored after great provocation.

The President of the Kowloon F.C. will introduce the Mayor and Mayoress of De Tong to the thousands assembled in the grand stand and suitable souvenirs of the occasion are being presented by the Mayor and Mayoress after the result of the match has been decided upon by the officials.

Raffles are a big feature, a whole carcass of a sheep, a football and a cheque are among the many and varied prizes, the winners have in each case to transport off the Club premises.

Shield Presentations

The presentation of the Shield after the match will conclude the main events. This will take place in the grand stand in all probability following the usual photographing of teams, officials, beauty chorus, etc., etc.

Altogether this is to be a big Kowloon effort for Charity, which it is hoped will receive the support of the unique event deserves.

There is only one disappointment. The Committee have to announce that the Interport Association Football Selection have intimated they cannot attend officially, but will be present all the same. Contributed.

TWO JUNIOR CRICKET GAMES

H.K.C.C. DEFEAT RECREIO

The local cricket League experienced another quiet day on Saturday, when only two matches, both in the junior division, were decided in a programme of seven fixtures.

Hong Kong C.C. 2nd XI decisively defeated Club de Recreio and have jumped two places in the table. The Kowloon C.C. ground was the scene of another high scoring match, when the second string of the home team drew with Civil Service C.C. 2nd XI.

The only fixture in the senior division, that between Indian R.C. and Craigengower C.C., was unavoidably postponed at the last minute.

League II

H.K.C.C. 2ND v. RECREIO

On their own ground, Hong Kong C.C. 2nd XI defeated Club de Recreio by eight wickets.

Consistent bowling on the part of the home team was largely responsible for the dismissal of the Recreio for the small total of 57, Noronha with 20 to his credit being the only batsman to make a stand. Reid captured four wickets for 14 runs, Tait and Summers accounted for two each for 20 and 14 respectively.

H.K.C.C. passed their opponents' score for the loss of two wickets and went on to make 148. Stanion (48) was the highest contributor. Lammer made 38 and two others got into double figures. Alves took six wickets for 41. Scores—

K.C.C. 2ND v. C.S.C.C. 2ND

In a high scoring match on their own ground, Kowloon C.C. 2nd XI drew with Civil Service C.C. 2nd XI. Mackay gave the K.C.C. a good start with a fine innings for 69, A. R. F. Raven helped with 57 and G. Lee made 42 not out, the total reaching 180 for three wickets, declared.

The visitors replied with 105 for six wickets, Paterson being top scorer with 39. On a batsman's wicket, bowlers on both sides were rather expensive. Scores—

TEST CRICKET

DETAILS OF SATURDAY'S PLAY

AUSTRALIA'S STAND

Australia's luck changed with a vengeance when the Third Test Match was opened at Melbourne on Saturday, England having won the first two comfortably.

The weather was brilliant when Ryder won the toss, states Reuter. As the wicket was in perfect condition he, of course, elected to bat and sent in Woodfull of Victoria and Victor Richardson (the South Australian skipper) to open the innings.

England drew blood early. When the total was only 5, Richardson was sent back. He made 8. He was caught by Duckworth, the wicket-keeper, off Larwood, the Nottingham bowler.

Third Wicket Down

Worse was to come for the disappointed Australian crowd. Woodfull, the hardest man to get out in the side, poked out with his bat at a ball from Tate (of Sussex), the best bowler of 1924-5) which rose up, thereby giving a catch to Jardine (the Surrey amateur) in the gully. Two wickets were down for 15 runs and Woodfull had only made 7.

Hendry (of Victoria) who had gone in first wicket down was now partnered by Kippax (of New South Wales).

With an on drive for 4, Kippax sent up 50 on the board, the innings having lasted an hour and 10 minutes.

Then Hendry was out. He was caught by Jardine, fielding in the gully to Larwood's bowling. Three wickets for 57 runs. Hendry made 23 out of 42 added for the partnership.

Ryder Nearly Out

Ryder then went in to partner Kippax and, incidentally, participate in a very profitable partnership which turned the tide of the day. The first ball he received, Ryder played in the way which proved Hendry's undoing. He touched it towards the gully where Jardine was fielding—and was almost out! Six more runs were registered before the lunch interval, Ryder claiming 2. Kippax had brought his score to 27. And the total was 63 runs for 3 wickets—by no means a good morning's work for Australia.

No Sting

The interval was bad for England. There was no sting in the attack as compared with the morning.

When the partnership had lasted 1½ hours, Kippax had made 60 and Ryder 50. Between lunch and tea, the Australian captain collected 48 and Kippax 42.

The score had been taken along to 168 runs for 3 wickets. Kippax and Ryder had put on 101 between them, of which 95 were made after lunch when the English bowling was ineffective. In spite of the changes rung by Chapman.

Worse for England was yet to come. After tea Kippax and Ryder got 60 runs more before Kippax was dismissed, to the relief of the English side.

First Century

Kippax reached three figures in three hours and 32 minutes. His was a magnificent innings, says Reuter, his main scoring strokes being cuts and drives. He hit 9 fours.

Two balls after getting 100 Kippax hit a long hoe from Larwood.

wood to Jardine, who was fielding at long leg. Jardine judged the catch well and held it. This was his third catch of the day and Larwood's third wicket.

The total was then 218 runs for 4 wickets. Kippax's fourth wicket partnership with Ryder produced 161 runs (of which 6 were made before lunch, 95 before tea, and 60 after tea). In the respective periods Kippax gathered 27, 42 and 31, respectively.

Bowling Flogged
Partnered by Don Bradman (of New South Wales, playing in the second Test Match of his career), Ryder—and Bradman—flogged the bowling and added another 58 runs without being separated, the newcomer being responsible for 26.

Showing excellent footwork and mainly by excellent driving, Ryder reached his 100 in three hours and 22 minutes—having scored just a shade faster than Kippax.

At the close he was 111 not out, having helped to add 219 runs and having batted before lunch until the drawing of stumps. He made 2 out of 6 before lunch, 48 out of 95 between lunch and tea, and 61 out of 118 after tea.

The closing score was 276 runs for 4 wickets.

Record Attendance
There were only 3,000 people present when the first ball was bowled.

After lunch the attendance had increased to 63,000. The ground made a wonderful sight. It was packed to capacity. Hundreds encroached on the grass, causing an interruption because the umpires had to request them to get back.

At tea-time, the attendance reached 60,000, when the weather remained brilliant and the wicket was still perfect.

Then it increased to 63,000—a world's record!

CHINESE DAY SUCCESS IN THE FOOT- BALL LEAGUE CAROLINE HILL VICTORY

China's football "joss" worked overtime in the Hong Kong Amateur Football League on Saturday. Of the five purely Chinese teams engaged, three won and two shared the points. In no case was there more than a one goal advantage, but it counted nevertheless.

At Caroline Hill, South China A.A.'s 1st XI were value for their defeat—by the only goal of the match—of the 1st Batt. Queen's Royal Regt. Chinese Athletic profited by a mistake in the tactics of the 2nd Batt. King's Own Scottish Borderers and thereby annexed both points. Athletic won in division II and both South China's junior teams drew.

QUEEN'S REGT. v. S. CHINA

The match between the 1st Batt. Queen's Royal Regt. and South China A.A. was played at Sookumpoo. It was productive of brilliant football, both teams going all out, but South China were undoubtedly just better and their one goal victory did not flatter them. Teams:—

1st Queen's Regt.:—Dodd; Hooper, Sharp; Byrne, Hill, Morris; Larkin, Richardson, Canton, Barclay, Caldwell.

South China:—Pau Ka-ping; Li Tin-sang, Yu Cheuk-wa; Leung Wing-tak, Pang Wa-hing, Leung Wing-chiu; Lai Tin-choy, Pau Ka-chuen, Fung King-cheung, Lau Mau, Ip Pak-wa.

Referee:—Capt. A. W. Austin, M.C., M.M., R.A.

Fung King-cheung put his forwards going and South China were hot on the attack from the start, but Dodd saved well and Hooper punted away for Richardson to test Pau Ka-ping with a great drive, but the goalie saved a beauty.

Forwards' Day Out

Both teams were playing good football but South China's forward work, from an early stage, was brilliant.

Pau Ka-chuen missed after splendid passing by the front rank.

Martin and Sharp covered well but Ip Pak-wa, with a great centre, crossed and Dodd's punched out well.

Queen's tried to break away, Larkin doing well on the right, but Leung Wing-tak put South China on the attack and Lau Mau beat Dodd's with a lively cross shot which was disallowed owing to a South China player being under the cross-bar.

The match was intensely exciting, Larkin and Barclay shining for Queen's while South China's forwards were having a day out, the long passing game from wing to wing being very pretty to watch.

Fung King-cheung gave Dodd's a serious handful and the Queen's goalie was doing well.

The interval arrived with no score but this half was South China's and Queen's were lucky to have a clean score sheet.

The Winning Goal

From the re-start Queen's came strongly, but Li Tin-sang relieved well.

After short work, Fung King-cheung placed Lau Mau in possession and the inside right scored with a great shot three minutes from the resumption.

Queen's, urged on, made a big attempt and Pau Ka-ping saved a lesser from Caldwell.

South China, however, were upsetting the Queen's forwards and Barclay and Larkin were both robbed close in.

Following a very exciting raid on the Queen's goal, South China were awarded a penalty, but Fung King-cheung shot high over the bar.

From the kick out, Queen's went right through, Barclay's shot going just outside.

The teams were all out the excitement of a high order.

Queen's put on all pressure and looked like equalising. Li Tin-sang and Yu Cheuk-wa were in the way and there was always a South China defender. Larkin, with a lovely cross, found Pau Ka-ping at his best.

South China "attacked to the end" and were deserving winners.

Teams Compared

Queen's fielded their strongest XI, Larkin making a welcome re-appearance at outside right, but South China gave their best exhibition of the season, the play of the forwards being of a high order.

Dodd kept a good goal. Hooper and Sharp played well. Morris was the pick of the halves. Barclay and Larkin were in their best form in a bright forward line—but the Queen's were never allowed to get their last movement in.

Pau Ka-ping was in fine form in South China's goal; his clearances at critical moments being first-class. Yu Cheuk-wa partnered Li Tin-sang splendidly, the newcomer playing a cool and brainy game. Leung Wing-tak was the best of a good half-back line. South China won on their forward display. The vanguard served up dazzling football at times. Fung King-cheung was all a centre-forward needed to be and Lau Mau a fine inside. Ip Pak-wa was brilliant at outside-left, the left wing being China's great attacking force throughout.

Sporting Game

The game was splendidly contested, free from fouls of any serious description, and Queen's played a sporting game throughout; so that the match was one of the best seen this season. There was not a dull moment. The control of the game also was most satisfactory and the large crowd cheered from start to finish a fine sporting struggle with honours going the right way on the day's play.

ATHLETIC v. K.O.S.B.

The 2nd Batt. King's Own Scottish Borderers again made the fatal mistake of easing up in the last 15 minutes of their game on the H.K.F.C. ground at Happy Valley, with the result that Chinese Athletic turned defeat into victory.

The Borderers took Reeves from centre-forward and played him at right back; and the move was a complete success. Everest played as leader of the attack and did well, but was unfortunate in getting but little support from his left wing, both Alexander and McGlinchy having an off day.

Athletic had four 2nd XI players out. Teams:—

2nd Batt. K.O.S.B.:—McDougall; Reeves, Martin Skiggs, Davey, Gear; Torrie, Stock, Everest, McGlinchy, Alexander.

Chinese Athletic:—Chan Shik-pu; Wong Shui-wo, Lai Yuk-tat; Ho Cho-yin, Ng Kam-chuen, Leung Yuk-long; Wong Pak-chung, Shek Pui-tim, Wong Pak-chung, Suen Kam-shun, Chan Kwong-lu.

Referee:—Warrant Engineer J. W. Barber, R.N.

Fast Pace

The game commenced at a fast pace, both teams attacking in turn.

Chan Kwong-lu neatly beat Reeves and centred, but Gear made a clever and timely clearance.

The Athletic left wing were an extremely nippy pair and gave Reeves and Gear many an anxious moment.

At the other end, Skiggs sent Stock away and the inside-right put in a fine drive from long range, which the Athletic goalie cleared in capable style. A header from Everest was similarly disposed of.

Lai Yuk-tat conceded a corner which was got away, and Athletic again attacked on the left, where Chan Kwong-lu gave McDougall a nasty one to deal with.

Stock was the most prominent of the K.O.S.B. forwards and twice in quick succession he had the Athletic goal-keeper in difficulties. A moment later, Everest was just a second too late to rush a perfect centre from Torrie into the net.

Borderers Better

A rasping long shot by Gear, which just scraped the cross-bar, was the next item of note; and the Athletic defence was not relieved until Everest went just wide with a header.

McDougall did well to clear a fast, low drive from Wong Pak-chung, the veteran centre-forward playing with all his usual cunning. Reeves was warmly applauded for two fine clearances from free kicks. A misunderstanding between McGlinchy and Skiggs nearly let the Athletic in, but McDougall came out to make a well judged clearance.

Everest missed a good chance hereabouts by failing to trap the ball in front of goal, and a fast and interesting—but blank first half terminated with the Borderers slightly the better team.

Soldiers Lead

Athletic were first away on re-starting. Ng Kam-chuen ran through, but was closely attended by Martin, the ball going behind.

Everest sent Stock through with a perfect header, but the inside-right was just too late for the ball in a race with Chan Shik-pu.

The Borderers experienced a shock when McDougall fumbled a centre and lost the ball, but Martin smothered a shot which would have undoubtedly found the net.

After 10 minutes, Stock sent Torrie away and the ensuing centre was taken on the run by Everest, who scored with a nice drive.

The Borderers continued to have the better of matters and Stock was a constant thorn in the side of the Athletic defence.

Two for Athletic

An attack by the Athletic left wing looked unhealthy for the Borderers, but Suen Kam-shun drove a first-timer just over the cross-bar.

At this stage the K.O.S.B.'s seemed to lose a lot of their vitality and the Athletic proceeded to raid their goal in determined style.

The equalising goal was the result of clever work by the right wing, which drew Reeves out of position. The ball was then smartly centred, and Suen Kam-shun had no difficulty in scoring from close in.

The same player was nearly through again, but Davey tackled in the nick of time and cleared in fine style.

The Athletic were now having by far the better of matters and, as the result of a beautifully combined movement, Shek Pui-tim lobbed a first-timer neatly past McDougall.

Desperate Rally

The closing stages saw the Borderers making desperate but spasmodic attempts to regain the ground lost, but the Athletic proved capable of hanging on to their lead and can be considered fortunate in retiring with both points.

A very large crowd watched the struggle.

RECREIO v. H.K.F.C.

At King's Park, the match between Club de Recreio and Hong Kong F.C. attracted many spectators from both sides of the harbour. The game was keen and very fast from the beginning to end and provided many thrills. The Club were rather weak in shooting at times whilst the Recreio were dangerous in front of goal every time. Four goals were divided. Teams:—

Recreio:—Beltrao; Gosano, Silva-Netto; Marques, Remedios, Silva; Victor, Ward, Roza Pereira, Rocha, Brown.

H.K.F.C.:—Edwards; Holt, Bishop; McBride, Wallington, Watson; Reid, Alexander, Goldman, Scott, Trambitzky.

Referee:—C.F.O. Willis, R.N.

One Each

There was some keen mid-field play, each side striving to get away. The Club succeeded and Goldman passed to Trambitzky who shot wide. A determined attack by the Club produced a scuffle over the Recreio goal and the referee blew for a corner but, on an appeal by the Club forwards, he consulted the linesman and awarded a goal for the Club, Trambitzky being responsible for the shot.

Recreio then worked hard to equalise and their forwards equalised a beautiful goal with a stinging shot in the corner, Edwards being unable to get to it.

Club Lead Again

The Club pressed hard but Silva-Netto was in tip-top form and continually robbed Goldman of the ball.

However, the Club made a determined forward rush. Scott took possession of the ball and made no mistake about putting it right past Beltrao, thus giving the Club the lead again.

For a time the Club were pressing hard, but through beautiful defensive work by Silva-Netto—and weak shooting on the part of Trambitzky—they were unable to score. Silva-Netto was continually applauded.

Recreio found it hard to get past Bishop.

The second half opened with Recreio having the wind at their back. The Club took the ball forward and attacked, but faulty shooting by Trambitzky resulted in several good chances being wasted.

Goldman Held

The Recreio forwards then took possession and Victor, seeing Brown left open on the wing, passed to him. Away went the diminutive Brown, with Bishop and McBride after him. He beat them for speed and made sure of his shot—beating Edwards with a real hot one and thus bringing the score to 2-1.

Recreio then put on extra pressure and tried hard to score, both Brown and Pereira playing a beautiful, fast game, but Bishop was a tower of strength in the defence and continually robbed them.

The Club made a determined attack. For a time, matters looked very black for the Recreio, but Silva-Netto had Goldman well in hand and never gave him a chance to get through.

Recreio Star

For the Club, Scott and Alexander (in the forward line) played well but Trambitzky missed many open goals by shooting wide. Bishop shone in the defence and Edwards, in goal, played a good game. He should make a first-class goal-keeper in time, being quite young yet.

For Recreio, Rocha, Pereira and Brown were the pick of the forward line, Brown being a constant danger because of his speed. The best man, however, was Silva-Netto, who played a beautiful game in the defence, being continually applauded for his determined efforts to stop Goldman and Scott.

The game was exciting from start to finish. The teams were about equal on the run of the play.

AMONG THE JUNIORS

The Reserves of the 1st Batt. the Queen's Royal Regt. secured the biggest victory of the day in division II, trouncing Kowloon F.C. Reserves by 8-2. The curious feature was that the losers scored both their goals in the first ten minutes! Then the infantrymen replied with eight (Beatty 8, Harrison 2, Mortimer 2, Evans 1). Kowloon's scorers were King and Moss.

At Caroline Hill

Tin Yuk-on scored for South China A.A.'s "A" XI at Caroline Hill against the Reserves of the 2nd Batt. the King's Own Scottish Borderers. This was in the second half. Hume equalised and the score ended at 1-1. Hume, Bird, McKnight, Hart and Craig were the pick of their side.

Athletic v. Small Units

Chinese Athletic Reserves defeated Small Units (of the South China Command) by the odd goal in three at Happy Valley. Choy Ping-fan and Li Hing-ching opened the scoring for the winners and then Sabin reduced the deficit. The soldiers had only ten men in the first half and, after the change of ends, there was no further scoring. Small Units deserve sympathy for a plucky display against odds in one of the best junior games of the season.

R.A. v. St. Joseph's

By the odd goal in five, Royal Artillery Reserves defeated St. Joseph's College at Sookumpoo. Costello gave St. Joseph's the lead until the interval. Leonard increased the advantage. Then Reed and Taylor equalised for the Gunners and Taylor put in the winning goal.

Eastern v. R.N.

On St. Joseph's College ground, Eastern F.C. lost to Royal Navy Reserves by four goals to nil, the sailors being superior both in attack and defence. Goodridge and Sorbie pierced the losers' cordon in the first half. By adopting bustling tactics, the R.N. added two more, both through Goodridge, who made his bag three. Haroon played a brainy game at inside left for Eastern and showed excellent promise.

King's Park Draw

Each side scored once in each half at King's Park where Club de Recreio Reserves met South China A.A.'s "B" XI. In both halves of the game, the Chinese led and the home team equalised. The scorers were Ip Koon-ming, Santos, Cheung Chang-tak, Santos.

The Chinese papers say that reports have been received by the authorities that a gang of Bias Bay pirates have come to Shanghai with the intention of committing another outrage. The shipping companies have taken all precautions and the authorities are on the look-out for the gang.—N. C. Daily News.

NAVY v. KOWLOON C.C.

At King's Park, Royal Navy lost to Kowloon C.C. by eight wickets. Set with 68 runs, the visitors replied with 116 for eight wickets when the closure was applied.

For the Senior Service, Pay Comdr. Annaheim was the only batsman to make a stand against the bowling of Goodwin (5 for 26) and Ross (5 for 34).

E. F. Fincher who made 67, played a big part in the victory of his side. Scores:—

CURIOUS CARAVAN TOUR

LONELY WOMEN
TREKKING IN SEARCH OF HUSBANDS
£2,000 A YEAR

New York.—A new way of acquiring husbands has been found by Miss Helen Davis, of Washington, who has organised a "matrimonial caravan" to tour the United States. Any lonely woman who is unattached can join the caravan on giving proofs of her honesty of purpose and good intentions.

A sedan motor-car is the nucleus of the caravan. It belongs to Miss Davis, who is 32, was formerly a travelling saleswoman, and is described as a rapid and convincing talker.

Her initial companions are two lonely widows—one a Virginian, aged 38, with a family-tree, and the other a University graduate, aged 50, who has a grown-up daughter. The names of the subordinate members of the caravan will not be disclosed unless they desire it.

May Smoke and Drink
Six hundred possible husbands in various parts of the country have written to Miss Davis. When interviewed, Miss Davis said: "We are not starting on a frivolous expedition. We are idealists and want to become home-makers."

Miss Davis's ideal husband is one who has an annual income of £2,000, and who would advance £1,000 to educate her brother. Furthermore, he must be honourable, truthful and good-natured. She does not mind if he drinks and smokes in moderation. He may even smoke a pipe. He must enjoy music and outdoor sports, because she does, and must be fond of travelling. He must be over forty and under 55, but it does not matter whether he is bald-headed, or fat, or thin.

Love at First Sight Improbable
Love at first sight is not reckoned as a probability. During the caravan tour all men offering themselves as candidates for matrimony will be catalogued, with proof of their financial and other declarations. Then the pairing off with the caravan maids will be done in a businesslike manner. The caravan will halt near cities while crossing the Continent from Washington to Los Angeles. The husband-hunters will give receptions at each stopping-place, to which all lonely single or widowed women will be invited and asked to accompany the caravan westward.

A return trip eastward may be made in the spring, but Miss Davis is confident that there will not be any caravan maids left to marry by then.

HE MADE HER EAT CIGARETTES!

THE SEQUEL
STORY OF ATTACK BY AN ENRAGED HUSBAND
DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS

San Francisco, Dec. 16.
Some smokers can't get a cough out of a carload of cigarettes, but Mrs. Clare S. Edwards is trying to get a divorce out of a package. According to her complaint on file here against David C. Edwards, her husband became so enraged when he saw her smoking a cigarette that he threw her to the floor, sat on her chest and forced her to eat a package of cigarettes one by one.—United Press.

BRITISH CINEMA

THE HOME SECRETARY'S CONFIDENCE GROWING OUTPUT
Sir William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, indulged a fancy of himself as a daring film hero in a speech he made at a dinner of film producers at the Savoy Hotel recently. The dinner was organised by the film group of the Federation of British Industries, to mark re-

FRESH MONSOON

N.E. winds, fresh, fine, if the N.E. winds, fresh, fine, if the Hong Kong, the adjacent coast and Formosa Channel.

At 10.30 a.m. to-day the Observatory reported:—There appears to be a depression to the east of Shanghai and a new anti-cyclone over China. Fresh monsoon may be expected over the China Sea.

cent progress in British film production. Proposing a toast to British film production, Sir William said: "When I pay my occasional visits to the cinema I confess to a desire not to be a lady star, but a masculine star—(laughter)—and be able to climb a church steeple in the twinkling of an eye, or to ride through my native village on a mustang, seize the girl of my choice, lay her across the saddle, and ride for 110 miles to my shed on the hills, only to find that I have picked up my mother-in-law by mistake. (Laughter.)"

Referring to the effect of the Film Quota Act, Sir William said he was informed that while in 1925 only from twenty to thirty films were produced in Britain, and that there were only about forty in 1926, this year they had already produced 180 British films, of which half were long films. (Hear, hear.) From the information he possessed, he saw no reason why, in the course of the next year or so, they should not settle down to producing at least a steady 250 films per annum.

British films had an assured market in Britain and they were now going into the United States, and to other parts of the world. Above all, they were going to the great Empire countries. He was told that profitable contracts had been made in Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. (Hear, hear.)

THE DANCE STEPS FOR 1929

MASTERS' EDICT
"MOVE LIKE MOLASSES FLOW" IS THE ORDER
"BLUES" DEAD

Berlin, Dec. 14.
German dancing-masters have issued their edict for 1929 ballroom fashions. Away with the contortions, they say, which made the flesh of gentlefolk creep two years ago! They have ruled that dancing motions next year shall no longer resemble a tribal kraal during the burial of a native chieftain.

"Dance like molasses flows," is their watchword. Tranquillity, elegance, poise and discretion are a few of the nouns which the German dancing sovereigns use to describe their rules of conduct for dancers during the coming season. The feet-slipping, finger-snapping, leg-slapping dancing days are relegated to hushed oblivion.

"Don't get excited on the dancing-floor," is their warning, "and don't let your temperament run away with you, no matter how boisterous the tunes emanating from that saxophone may be."

The Berlin pace-setters of dancing styles, Lutz Hoffmann and Reinhold Sommer, have decided the fate of the following dances: The quick-step charleston will set the fashion in German ballrooms this year. It will be danced with lively rhythm, occasionally merging into the fox-trot with turns and whirled and short running steps, strongly syncopated.

The "blues" are dead. Nor will the Yale blues replace them. The "slow fox" will be danced with simplicity, being restricted to two short and one long step. The tango is destined to remain the queen of 1929 dances, retaining its southern congeniality and assured popularity.

The English waltz is still looked upon with favour, but is adapted more for the tea dances than formal balls. The "twist" is a newcomer and may prove a dark horse this season. Its feature is a skating stride, for which waxed soles are desirable.

No rosy future is predicted for the "sugar-step" and the "Baltimore," and their appearances at German dances will be short-lived. The good, old-fashioned Viennese waltz, hardest of all hardy perennials, will retain its familiar popularity. This is the edict of the German dancing-masters, and it indicates a conservative move away from innovations and a systematic attempt to bolster up the prestige of long-established dances.
